Overview

With CMMC enforcement approaching, contractors working on federal, military, or DoD-related projects will need to understand their obligations under Level 1 and Level 2 requirements. Many firms are behind the curve, and primes will soon begin screening subcontractors for SPRS scores and documented cybersecurity practices.

This half-day workshop is designed to give contractors a realistic starting point. Attendees will learn how to assess their current posture, calculate and submit an SPRS score, and understand the documentation needed to begin moving toward compliance. Hoop5 will walk through practical examples, common mistakes, and tools companies can use right away.
